As well as the General Election on June 8th, on Thursday 4th May, elections will take place across the 53 electoral divisions which make up

Gloucestershire County Council

. These elections will determine how the county council - which manages Road, Adults Social Care, Libraries, and other services is run.

The last local (county) election took place in 2013 - with the Conservatives the largest party. On our website we have links to information and a summary of the results and candidates in the Stroud area (the latter are copied below). You can find information about how to vote , and the candidates that are standing across Gloucestershire on the County Council's website, which will also host the results.
